

BULLETIN OF THE

EMPIRE STATE POSTAL HISTORY SOCIETY

ISSUED BI-MONTHLY

FEBRUARY 1980

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Something new has been added this month. Auction Manager George Bernadt is starting a mail bid auction. The details are with the auction list. Support it by bidding and by submitting material for the next auction. George has given a great deal of time and hard work to make the auctions a success. Lets support him in his efforts.

CALL for NOMINATIONS for EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBERS

In accordance with the provisions of Art 4, Sect 1 of the By-Laws, I call for nominations of three persons to be elected to the Executive Board, to fill the expiring three-year terms now held by George Bernadt Eldridge Moore, and William Seifert.

Any member may Submit names of nominees, the only qualification being that the nominee has consented to stand for election. Nominees receiving the support of three or more members in good standing will be placed on the ballot to be mailed in April.

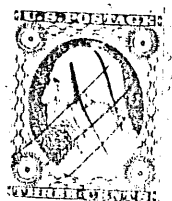

Please send the names of your nominees to Ken de Lisle, Secretary
54 Ramsey Place, Albany NY 12208 before March 1, 1980.

I am sure there are many capable members who will be willing to serve if asked. Participate in this democratic process. Remember a society cannot be effective without the support of an active and aggressive membership. This is your opportunity to put into office, members willing to work for the betterment of the society.

Emma Koberg
President

In preparing the next edition of " MANUSCRIPT POST OFFICES OF NEW YORK STATE ", I am wading through all the listings sent in for the earlier editions. I am using an index card for each town and the data for each cover is entered on the card. All information submitted is entered. Month, day and year are important not just the year. I am attempting to establish the period of use, therefor, both early and late dates are needed. There are cases where the use of a manuscript town name is interrupted by the use of a handstamp town marking. This information is definitely worth reporting. To all those members who haven't sent in their listings, please do so. It is necessary so that publication of the book may be expedited. Bulletin of April 1978 gives instructions for submitting the lists. Please hurry!

Eagleville
Post Office

William Law Esq
East Salem
Washington Co
Hague Dec 8
Dec 4/1978

George Bernadt sent a photocopy of an interesting cover which presents a few problems. Look at the above copy and note there is no state indicated in the address or postal markings. Do you know where EAGLEVILLE is located? East Salem is in Washington County, New York; Hague is in Warren County, New York. With the publications available to me, I can not find an Eagleville. HELP! Any information should be sent to the Editor of the Manuscript book - Henry Chlanda, PO Box 637 Wall St. Sta, New York, NY 10005 or to George Bernadt, 1470 Wyoming Ave Schenectady, New York 12307.

Empire State Postal History Society

POPULATION FOR ALL PLACES IN 1880

The following is an alphabetical list by every city, town, village and post-office in NEW YORK with their population, using the census of 1880 as a basis, except in cases where later reports of a reliable character show a decided gain.

Places whose population is not ascertainable are marked thus—X. County towns are in full-faced type, thus—Buffalo.

Post-offices are in Roman, thus—Hinsdale. Places not post-offices are in italic, thus—Ashby. Express offices are indicated thus—●.

The index letters refer to that portion of the county: C.....Central.

Most of our members want the E.S.P.H.S. to continue with some form of club auction. Since insufficient material was obtainable for our former type mail auctions & since "table top" auctions are of necessity limited to those present--it has been decided to try mail auctions via our BULLETINS.

With only a few days to deadline for our next Bulletin, sufficient material was obtained from area members (some from Roy Ahlquist, who being psychic, had already sent them).

We are hereby soliciting lots immediately, if not sooner, for future Bulletin Auctions. Send any number of lots with a minimum value of $2.00 each & I will enter them as needed starting with the April Bulletin. Make your description of your lots as accurate & complete as possible & and where covers have stamps affixed, please give Scott #.

Auction rules will be the same as those of our former mail auctions where applicable, except that Min. bids are $1.00 & commissions will be a flat 10%, to the seller only. Min. comm. is .25¢ and max. $5.00. Deadline for submission of lots for any given sale will be the 1st of the month preceding that in which the Bulletin is mailed. Vis: April Bulletin lots must be received by March 1.

Bids may be submitted on any clean piece of paper. Please write Lot# and amount of bid clearly along with your name & address.

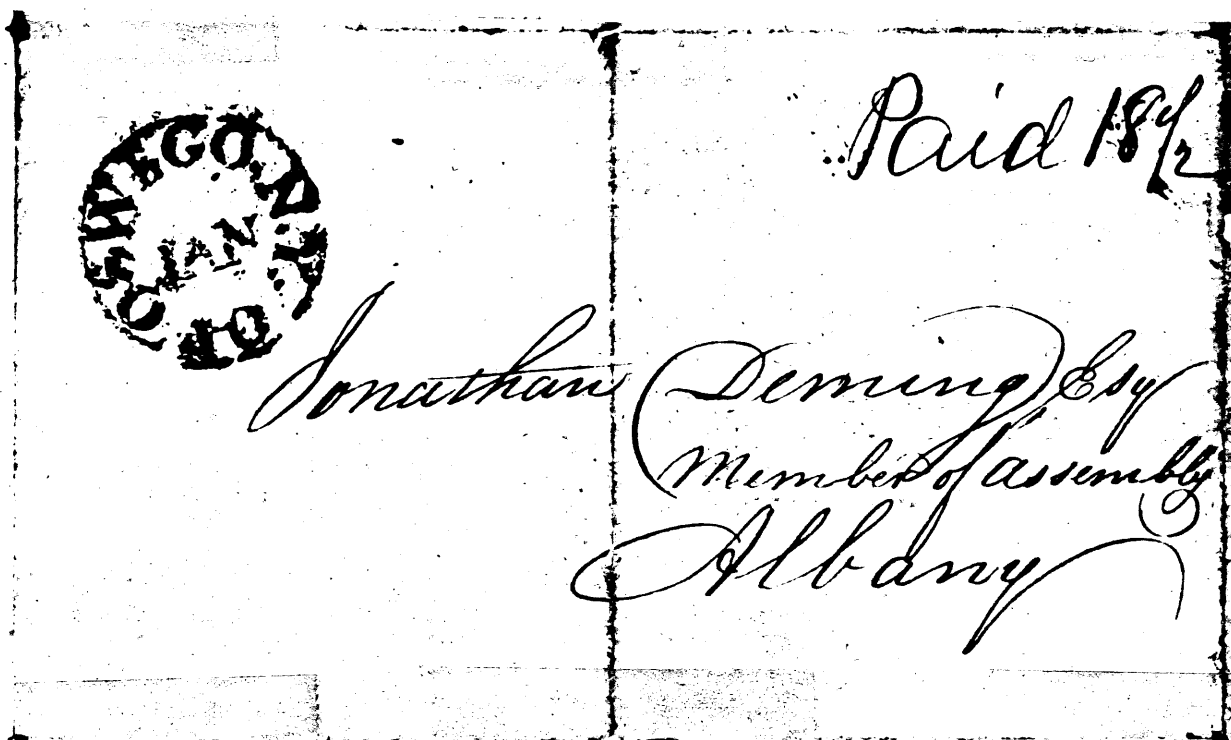

Deadline for receipt of bids for the below auc. is Feb. 22, '80

STAR Postmarks on NYS covers.

Covers with a star postmark in the cancel or even the receiving marking are very desirable and good strikes are hard to find and also hard to part with. There are other postmarks that are very rare and fanciful to be sure, but there is something about a star that tends to hold your gaze a little longer.

This STAR column is an experiment to see if it is as interesting as we would like by the input of the members. Xerox copy is appreciated and it would be helpful to supply year date and color.

Displayed on the next two pages are examples submitted by GERALD WILEY, PITT PETRI, EMMA KOBERG and your editor.

ARTHUR BARGER, P.M.

Miss Frances Wright of England visited the United States in the early 19th century. She travelled extensively at that time. The following are from the journal she wrote in 1819 and which was published in London in 1822.

Submitted by Emma Koberg

The mode in which the contents of the post bag are usually distributed through the less populous districts, had often before amused me. I remember, when taking a cross cut in a queer sort of a caravan, bound for some settlement on the southern shore of Lake Erie, observing, with no small surprise, the operation of our charioteer; a paper flung to the right hand, and anon a paper flung to the left, where no sight or sound bespoke the presence of human beings. I asked if the bears were curious of news; upon which I was informed, that there was a settler in the neighbourhood, who ought to have been on the lookout, or some of his children for him. "But when I don't find them ready, I throw the paper under a tree; and I warrant you they'll look sharp enough to find it; they're always curious of news in these wild parts;" and curious enough they seemed, for not a cabin did we pass that a newspaper was not flung from the hand of this enlightener of the wilderness. Occasionally making a halt at some solitary dwelling, the post bag and its guardian descended together, when, if the assistance of the farmer, who here acted as postmaster, could be obtained, the

Editor's Observations:
Nick Todaro

I have received encouraging letters from members, and I like it, I like it. Found by Jerry Wiley - 'lost' town of Howardville and an R.F.D. of Oswego Falls and Walt La La Force reported one from Scottsville, also sent xerox of Clarkson 4 Corners.

John M. Price, Jr., M.D. sent me a very nice letter regarding Brooklyn street-car RPOs. He has donated to the library of ESPHS a copy of his recently published (by the Mobile Post Office Soc.) forty eight page monograph. In addition to the many drawings are two sheets of overlays. Easy to understand and use, it is a fine addition to our growing library. I would like to add that he has won two awards for this monograph. He won a gold in the literature competition at STaMpsHOW 1979, and a large silver at SESCOAL 1979. I have also learned that Dr. Price won a bronze by exhibiting Long Island postal history at Interpostal 1979.

whole contents of the mail were discharged upon the ground, and all hands and eyes being put in requisition, such letters as might be addressed to the surrounding district, were scrambled out from the heap; which, being then again scrambled together, was once more shaken into the leathern receptacle, and thrown into the wagon; but it sometimes happened, that the settler was from home. On one occasion, I remember, neither man, woman, nor child, was to be found; the stage-driver whistled and hallooed, walked into the dwelling, and through the dwelling, sprang the fence, traversed the field of maize, and shouted into the wood; but all to no purpose. Having resumed his station, and set his horses in motion, I inquired how the letters were to find their destination, seeing that we were carrying them along with us, heaven knew where? "Oh! they'll keep in the country any how; it is likely indeed, they may go down the Ohio, and make a short tour of the states; this has happened sometimes; but it is a chance but they get to Washington at last; and then they'll commence a straight course anew, and be safe here again this day twelvemonth may be, or two years at farthest."

At Rochester we dismissed our wagon; and the following morning, between three and four o'clock, once again seated in the regular stage, struck westward to the Niagara river. It was not, I assure you, without some silent alarm, that, on leaving Rochester, we crossed by starlight the tremendous bridge, for the purpose of opening the mail at Carthage [now included within the bounds of Rochester].

At Carthage we found the postmaster, very naturally fast asleep; after much clatter against his door and wooden walls, he made his appearance with a candle, and according to custom, the whole contents of the mail were discharged upon the floor. The poor Carthaginian rubbed his eyes, as he took up one letter after another from the heap before him; but his dreams seemed still upon him. "Not a letter can I see," he exclaimed, as he again rubbed his eyes, and snuffed his candle. "Friend, lend me your eyes, or you may just take the whole load away with you." "I am none of the best at decyphering handwriting," replied the driver. "Why then I must call my wife, for she is as sharp as a needle." The wife was called, and, in gown and cap, soon made her appearance; the candle and the papers placed in the middle, wife, husband, and driver, set about decyphering the hieroglyphics; but that the wife had the character of being as sharp as a needle, I should have augured ill of the labours of this triumvirate. Whether right or wrong, however, the selection was soon made, and the budget once again committed to the wagon. . . .
