Preface

This work was started in late 1976 as a continuation of our books, Pennsylvania Postal History and New Jersey Postal History. Because John Kay worked on the New York and Washington Railway Post Office, he had the opportunity to visit the many archives in Washington, D.C.

Many people have helped with this work and we wish to thank them. Arthur Hecht and Raymond DePue, archivists with the National Archives and Record Service who specialize in the appraisal and inventory of postal records, have been most helpful, as has Ms. Jane Kennedy of the U.S. Postal Service Library. Ms. Emma G. Koberg assisted with proofing some of the versions of the data. Ms. Barbara Kautz of the faculty of The Pennsylvania State University Computation Center read the manuscript and made many useful suggestions. Thomas Minsker and William H. Verity, also of the Computation Center faculty, helped with some of the final production problems. The program SCRIPT, a text formatter from the University of Waterloo, was used for the final production manuscript.

A special note of thanks goes to the staff of the American Philatelic Research Library for its patience and understanding. The library's holdings of Postal Bulletin and Postal Guides provided a source of information not readily available elsewhere. Some records in the Philatelic History Section of the Smithsonian Institution and the Library of Congress also were used in compiling the data.

The information contained in this work exists as a data base in machine-readable form. Anyone who desires a copy of it should contact Chester M. Smith, Jr. The data base was developed at the Computation Center of The Pennsylvania State University.

The results of further research that may make corrections to the data printed here, and all further changes made by the U.S. Postal Service, will be published by the Empire State Postal History Society (APS Affiliate No. 28) in its monthly bulletin. Send any corrections to John L. Kay, 329 Milne, Philadelphia, PA 19144. Anyone who has information that will improve the accuracy of this material is asked to send the information to the Society. Any questions concerning the information printed herein should be handled in the same manner.

NEW YORK

Introduction

The two centuries of the postal history of New York that are detailed in this work, 1775-1980, start with July 26, 1775, when the Continental Congress founded the American postal system with Benjamin Franklin as Postmaster General. Before 1800 less than 100 offices were established; now there are more than 1,800. Table 1 shows the number of offices by years, and Table 2 shows those offices that were established during the eighteenth century. The number of offices in Table 1 includes sub-units such as branches and stations. Therefore, the number of offices may not agree with those of the U.S. Postal Service. The history of all post offices, named stations, named branches, rural stations, rural branches, and community post offices is covered. We consider this work a good starting point for studying the rest of New York's postal history.

The following information is given for each post office or sub-unit:

- Name
- Name of parent office
- Zip code
- County at time of existence
- Establishment date
- Discontinuation date
- First postmaster's name
- Name changes
- County changes
- Place from which mail service was obtained on discontinuation

The facts in this work were derived primarily from:

Benjamin Franklin's Journal, July 26, 1775, to January 5, 1780
Records of First Returns Received from Postmasters, October 1789 to July 1818
Records of Appointments of Postmasters, 1790-1970

Wherever possible the information was verified from two or more sources, or by two or more people looking at the same data. One must remember that many of the records used were handwritten and errors could occur in reading and transcription. In addition to this procedure, numerous checks were made after the data were entered into a data base on an IBM/370 computer.

Smith and Patera (1979) pointed out that the "Records of Appointments of Postmasters" do not always contain the best available information. In the case of the discontinuation dates in the period 1887-1899, either the "Daily Journals" or the Postal Bulletin should be used. In fact both sources should be used to obtain the most precise information.

Because of the manner of entering and storing the data in a computer, names should be spelled consistently. Indeed, any name is saved only once. Also verified were facts such as that, during the existence of a post office, the county of record did indeed exist. The discontinuation date of an office and the subsequent reestablishment under another name or status were checked for consistency. Many other checks were made to ensure that the data are as correct as possible.

Prior Works

The earliest work that covered a significant portion of New York State is that of Petri (1960). Those interested in a county in the western part of the state would do well to consult this work for the detail it contains. The works of Kaiser (1965) and DeGraff have been completely rechecked and compiled into the present one. After our work was done we found that there were more than 10,000 facts that did not appear in these former works. Two of the major additions were the details on stations and branches and from where a place received mail service on discontinuation.

In the area of postal markings or cancels, there are many works. Sampson (1953, 1971) catalogues the stampless and colonial period markings. Hahn (1938) and Hart and McDonald (1970) deal with the issue of 1847, while Ashbrook (1938), Chase (1942), Hill (1955), and Alexander (1979) deal with the 1851-1857 period issues. Boyarsky (1964, 1966) deals with the 1861 issue, as do Lane (1969) and Linn (1955). Willard (1970) treats in detail the stamp and markings of the 2-cent 1883 issue. Langford (1955) deals with the subject of flag cancels; Loso and de Windt (1953) and Luff (1950) with aspects of twentieth-century issues and markings. The works of Evans and Reynolds (1932), Konwiser (1933) and Norona (1933) contain much other information of interest to the New York postal historian.

The periodicals of philately related directly to postal markings and postal history also contain much other information of interest. Notable among these are Postal Markings (1930), U.S. Cancellation Club Quarterly (1951), and the U.S. Cancellation Club News (1956). Smith and Hahn (1973) produced an index covering the latter two periodicals. Pat Paragraphs (1931), the Postal History Journal (1958-1974), and the Chronicle (1963-1974) contain many interesting articles.

Doane (1973) and Thompson (1949) treat the interesting subject of county and postmaster cancels in detail. If your interest is in the railroad mail service, the works of Harrington (1964), Bernstein (1975), McKee and Lewis (1972), Remele (1959), Towle and Meyer (1968), and Towle (1975) are recommended. Doane (1962, 1970) discusses the rural free delivery in some detail. Much material of general interest is contained in Beans (1921) and Scheele (1970).

The articles of Hecht (1958-1970) are especially recommended, because they detail the many sources of material, including those in the National Archives. Scheele (1970) also contains a very useful bibliography. The periodical U.S. Mail and Post Office Assistant is highly recommended as a source of early information. It was a semi-official forerunner of today's Postal Bulletin and has been reprinted by the Chicago Collectors Club.

There are three primary sections in this work:

- County Section
- Postmaster List
- Alphabetical List of Post Offices

The county section is the primary source for detailed information of interest to the postal historian. The section on postmasters' names should be of interest to the postal historian or the genealogist, because it contains over 8,000 names. The final section should be of special interest to the postmark collector.

County Section

There is a strong interest in local county history, and not as much at the state level. This work reflects that interest and is organized along county lines.

The present boundaries of the counties are shown on Page 6. The number of post offices by county is shown in Table 3, and includes the various spellings and county changes that appear. For example, while the Beckers Corners offices total two, there is and always has been in fact only one physical office: the idea of two offices arises from the two spellings "Becker's Corners," and "Beckers Corners."

The incorporation date of each county, the number of post offices that existed, and the counties from which the present county was formed after 1776, are also shown in Table 3. The county section contains the following information:

- Name of the office
- Establishment date
- Discontinuation date
- First postmaster's name, and notes

The first field may give the name of the office alone, indicating a status as a post office; if an office is a branch, station, or other sub-unit, the name of the parent office is preceded by a code and is given in parentheses. Note that over the years what we designate as "Rur." has been designated by various names. The earliest classification was the rural station, which later became the rural branch and just recently the community post office. The various codes are listed in the abbreviations section on Page iv. The Zip Code of any office is given in parentheses if appropriate. For example, in the case of Albany County, Berne has a Zip Code of 12023, and during the years of 1929 to 1956, Colonie was a branch of Albany. Table 4 shows all the parent post offices and the variously named sub-units.

The names of the lettered stations and branches can be found in the county section. One should consult the county list for exact information on the status of sub-units.

The dates of establishment and discontinuation may be either exact (My 23, 1847) or approximate (1814, My 1847). An approximate date indicates that the date is known only to the nearest year or month given. If an office is still active, the discontinuation field contains "_____." Note that the dates may not necessarily mean an office was opened or closed on that date, but simply that some change in status occurred. That is, it could be only that the name was changed slightly.

The spelling of post office names has undergone many changes. The first big change occurred in the Table of Post Offices for 1827 when all names ending in "-burgh" were changed to "-burgh." A few changes occurred over the succeeding years, until the period 1893 to 1895, when again change was plentiful. President Benjamin Harrison on September 4, 1890, issued an executive order setting up the U.S. Board on Geographic Names. The members submitted their first report on December 23, 1891, and the President ordered it to be printed and sent to Congress. On January 5, 1892, the report came out and contained the following:

The Board considers it desirable to depart from local usage in certain cases in order to effect reforms in nomenclature. Among these departures approved by the Board are the following:

- a. The avoidance, so far as seems practicable, of the possessive form of names.
- b. The dropping of the final "h" in the termination "burgh."
- c. The abbreviation of "borough" to "boro."
- d. The spelling of "Center" as here given.
- e. The discontinuation of the use of hyphens in connecting parts of names.
- f. The omission wherever practicable of the letters "C.H." (Court House) after the names of county seats.
- g. The simplification of names consisting of more than one word by their combination into one word.
- h. The avoidance of diacritic characters.
- i. The dropping of the words "city" and "town" as parts of names.

Starting in 1892, as new postmasters were appointed, the spelling of a post office would often be changed to conform to the board's suggestions. On December 12, 1893, the use of "Center" became standard. On December 1, 1894, the possessive form of names was ended, the "h" was dropped from "-burgh," and the "-boro" replaced "-borough." On December 1, 1895, many names of more than one word were combined into one.

The only official notice of the changes was the following:

ORDER No. 147 Washington D.C. December 7, 1894

Whereas, there is a marked difference in the spelling of names of post offices in the records of the Post Office Department and in the Postal Service, and in order that there shall be greater uniformity therein:

It is hereby ordered that the officials of the Post Office Department and the Postal Service shall cause the records of their offices to conform, in the orthography of the names of post offices, to that used in the lists of post offices contained in the OFFICIAL POSTAL GUIDE, published monthly under the direction of the Postmaster-General.

W. S. Bissell

Prior to this order, many postmasters used a spelling different from the official listing. This practice has almost completely ended.

A number of post offices changed their names several times. Belleplain was spelled as one word and as two words during two different periods of time.

The Notes/Postmaster field contains, among other things, the name of the first postmaster. In addition to a few miscellaneous notes, there are numerous office names preceded by codes. These codes indicate that the office existed previously under another name (F:) was changed to (T:) or received mail service (S:) from some other office on discontinuation. The complete list of codes is given in the abbreviations section on Page iv. If one looks at the Albany County listings, one can see how the codes are used. In the case of Beckers Corners, it formerly was known as Becker's Corners (F:Becker's Corners), and changed to Beckers Corners during December 1894. If one looks at the Becker's Corners entry one sees that it was changed to Beckers Corners (T:Beckers Corners). The residents of Beckers Corners received mail service from Selkirk (S:Selkirk), when their own office was discontinued.

A small group of post office names is listed without a postmaster's name or date of establishment, the only reference being a listing in a table of post offices between 1811 and 1819 showing only the name, the county, and the miles from Washington, D.C. (MFW), and sometimes the miles from the state capital (MSC). These names also can be found in the list of places on the mail routes of the time. They were probably stops on a mail route where mail was exchanged but no post office existed. An example of this is found in the Postmaster General's Letterbook 'C', Page 48, when on December 31, 1793, the Postmaster General authorized Mr. Mofat to ride one-half mile off the route to Easton, New Jersey to deliver mail to Charles Croxall of Belvidere, New Jersey, and to receive the mail in that community of three stores and a merchant mill.

Postmasters' List

The list of first postmasters is of interest from a genealogical as well as a postal history standpoint. This list contains all of the first postmasters of New York. Note that the postmaster's name is given for each period of existence of the post office. Many of these people were the founders and merchants of their communities. Indeed, about one out of fifteen named the town and post office after himself or his family. If there is an apparent relationship between a postmaster's last or first name and the post office name, an asterisk (*) appears to the left of the entry in this section. There are probably many more instances where the relationship is not entirely obvious. Some 589 of the 8,623 postmasters' names are related to the post office name. A postmaster's name is followed by the post office name and the abbreviated county name in parentheses. (See Table 3 for the complete list of county abbreviations.)

Alphabetical List of Offices

The alphabetical list of post offices is an index to more detailed information in the county lists. The year range given is the first year of establishment of any post office or sub-unit in a particular county, and the last year of existence, or "PR," if currently in existence.

A Word About the American Philatelic Society

The American Philatelic Society, founded in 1886, is the oldest and largest national organization of stamp collectors in the United States. Its many thousands of active members span this country and more than 100 foreign nations. It is not necessary to be an advanced collector or wealthy specialist to attain APS membership and join the more than 53,000 others who already have done so.

National headquarters of the organization, which houses the American Philatelic Research Library as well as the APS central and editorial offices and sales division, is located in State College, Pennsylvania.

The American Philatelic Society publishes The American Philatelist, a monthly journal that has grown to become the largest of its type in the world. Authoritative articles covering every phase of philately, together with the latest news of the hobby and reliable advertising, make it a world leader. Regular features include worldwide new issues, new discoveries, columns on the practical aspects of the hobby, and how-to-do-it pieces provided by the outstanding philatelic writers of this country and the world.

An important and rapidly growing service to APS members is in the field of philatelic education. In cooperation with The Pennsylvania State University, APS has sponsored a series of philatelic correspondence courses that have far exceeded early optimistic expectations of usage by the stamp-collecting public. First courses deal with beginning philately (one course each for youths and adults) and intermediate aspects of the hobby. Further, more detailed courses are planned for the near future. An annual week-long seminar on philately is conducted by APS each summer in State College. Other approaches to philatelic education are in various stages of development.

The APS Sales Division operates as a non-profit activity of the Society, enabling members to sell stamps at member-designated prices and to acquire additions to their collections at clearly stated, reasonable costs. Members may receive, on request, sales circuits of specific countries with no obligation other than to forward the circuits to others as directed by a circuit route sheet. With this fully insured service, choice stamps with total values in the millions of dollars are available to all members.

All-risk stamp insurance for the protection of stamp collections is another of the services offered to APS members. This service is available to members residing in the United States and Canada. Detailed information about this broad, low-priced program is sent to all new members when they are admitted to membership.

The APS Expert Committee of more than 140 outstanding philatelic specialists, in cooperation with the American Stamp Dealers' Association professional panel, renders skilled opinions regarding the genuineness or identity of stamps and covers. A small fee is charged for each item submitted.

APS offers its members a free translation service in almost all major languages. For normal letters and short statements, there is no charge other than a return, stamped envelope. For articles or lengthy communications, a minimum fee is charged.

The number of local stamp clubs in this country and abroad that are APS Chapters continues to increase; they now total more than 700. Also, more than eighty specialist stamp societies are Affiliates of the American Philatelic Society.

At its annual conventions and spring meetings conducted in major cities across the nation, APS presents the finest in philatelic exhibitions. These displays of the world's superior stamps, postal stationery, and other interesting items of philatelic research afford a liberal education for members and non-members alike. The exhibitions also allow members to gain information and suggestions for improving their own collections. The APS also sponsors the annual "World Series of Philately," wherein grand award winners from the nation's top exhibitions compete to become the Champion of Champions.

The services of the American Philatelic Research Library are available to all APS members by mail, and to all others by inter-library loan. Books may be borrowed from its extensive reference collection, and photocopies may be obtained. The Library publishes the quarterly Philatelic Literature Review.

Information on membership in the American Philatelic Society, as well as about any of the individual services noted above, is available by writing to APS, American Philatelic Building, P.O. Box 800, State College, PA 16801.
